Reunion

June 13, 1966

Dear Ann,

The local high school graduation this week brings to mind another June evening 20 years ago. Although our class has been scattered from Japan to Hinesburg, Vermont, I'm sure we all remember Wednesday night, June 12, 1946. I wonder if after 20 years we can do any better singing the class ode?

Does anyone remember the text of the main address, "Youth in the Post-war World"? Unfortunately, the topic is still valid in this year's commencement, too. Our class motto, "Not at the top, but climbing", takes on new meaning each year. I'm sure none of us knew 20 years ago how steep the climb was in front of us.

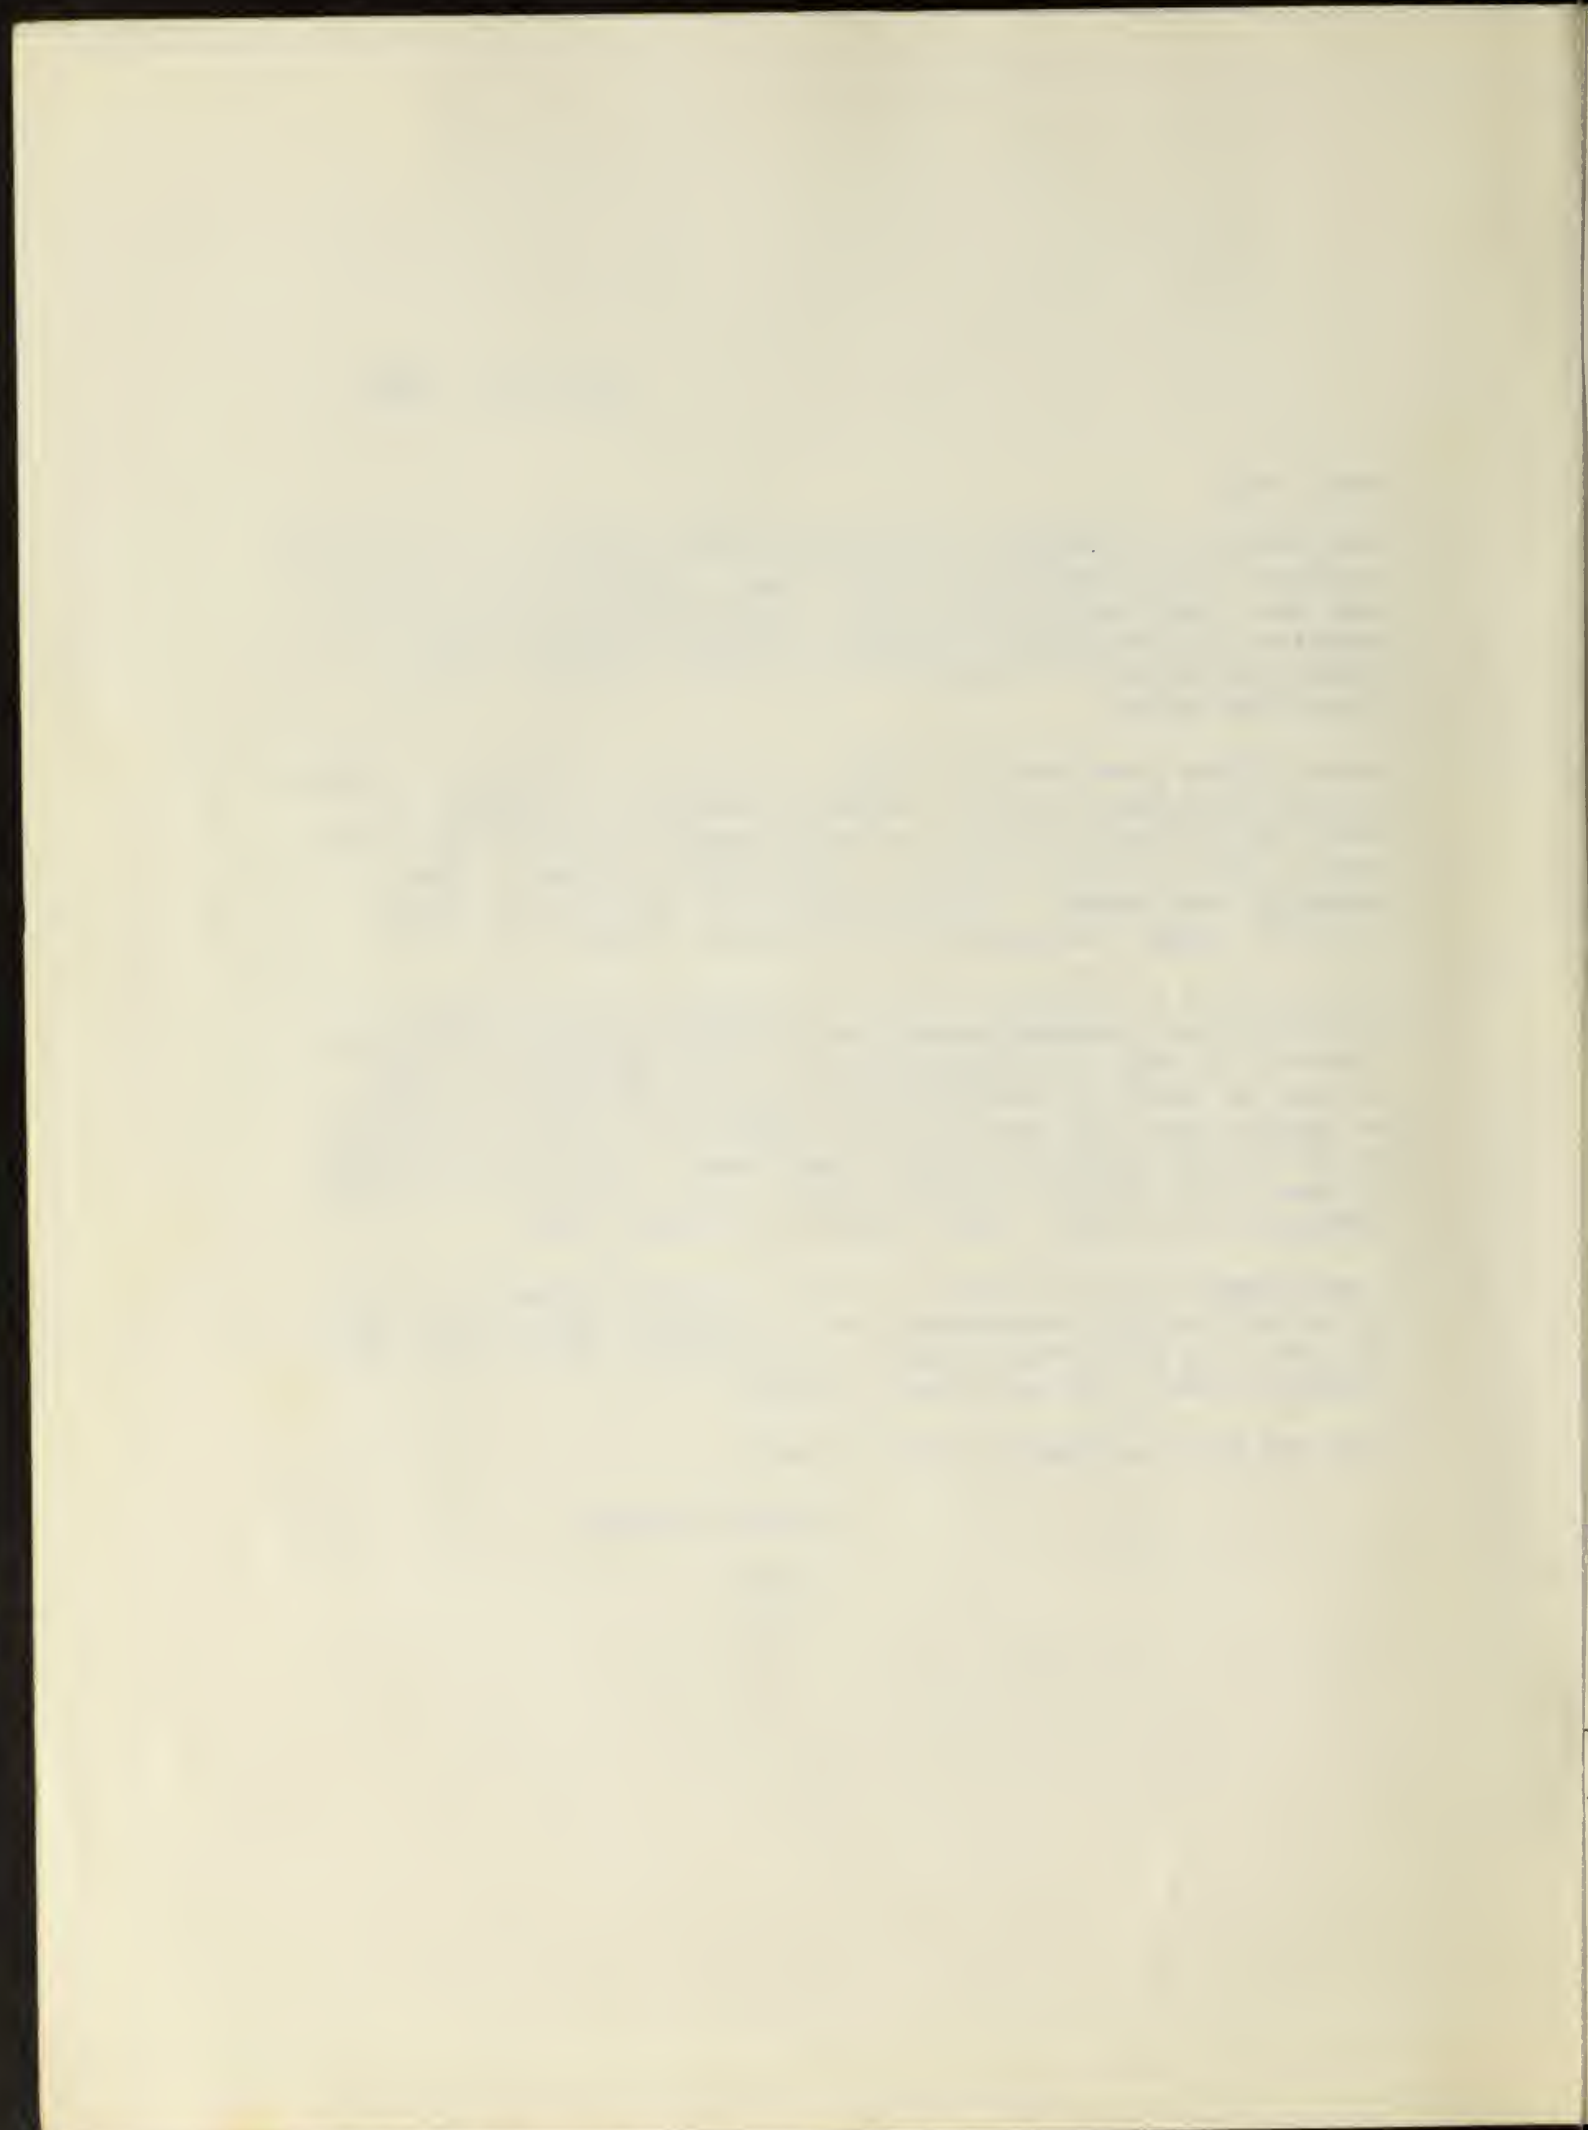

The reports I get from my secret agent - my mother - are that the reunion committee, headed by Ann Froberger, (Curran to you) have developed a real program for us. We can be sure that those living in Massachusetts will be there, and you can bet that those of us from "distant lands" will be well represented, too. I plan to go just to hear what "Wiggly" Welch has to say about me! Charlie Vickery will have a full report to make, too.

I promised Ann I'd write to add my encouragement to you to make the trip - across town or across several states. Like an old gentleman reminded me today, "you can't move mountains but you can move people".

See you all on Betty's front lawn!

Best regards,

Pete

The Scituate High School Class of 1946 held their 20-Year Reunion on Saturday, July 16, 1966 with 29 members present and 23 guests.

A group of 23 turned out in the afternoon at the home of Betty (Shaw) Cody for the afternoon activities. Four hours were spent renewing acquaintances and enjoying refreshments. School pictures and yearbooks were on display for review. Jean (Franzen) Wood and Dot (Vaughn) Limont were on hand although they could not be with us in the evening. Highlights of the afternoon included the arrival of a school bus complete with a banner reading "Scituate High School--Class of 1946--20th Reunion--Goes back to School--", football shakers and school pennants. The group was transported to the Old Alma Mater where a tour of the building was conducted by Herbert Bearce of the School Department. Special appreciation go to him and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman for making the afternoon entertaining.

A cocktail hour was held at 6:00 p.m. at the Bell Buoy, Scituate Harbor, followed by a dinner of steak or lobster. Master of Ceremonies, Charles Vickery, opened the evening program with a few remarks thanking the group for such a large turn-out. Class President, Charles Fleming, gave a welcoming address. Individual resumes were given by those present and letters were read from those unable to attend. Letters were read from Peggy (Cole) Thompson, Emily (Feola) Mitchell, Donald Hattin, Bob Holcomb, Thelma (Jenkins) Hayward, Stephen Jenney, Doris (Kulisich) Peck, Stuart MacNeill, and Daniel Yuhr. Carole (Dunphy) Vickery reported on a telephone call she had received from Jean (Hersey) McCarl who was planning to fly in from California, but whose reservation was cancelled because of the airline strike.

Highlights of the evening included "Memories of 1946" read by Betty (Welch) Collins and questions by Charles Vickery about events and people from the past. Novelty gifts were presented to Bill Vining for consistently being the first member to reply and make reservations; Jean (Franzen) Wood for the member having changed the least; Marie (McCarthy) Dunphy for the member with the youngest child; Jack Litchfield for being the member most recently married; Dick Flaherty for having the largest bar bill at 9:00; Ruth (Whittaker) Roberts for making the evening such a success; Cobby Swift for the member who traveled the farthest to attend; Bob Mongeau for being the most youthful looking; Carole (Dunphy) and Charles Vickery for having the most children; Betty (Welch) Collins for doing so much work from afar; Stephen Jenney for being the class' first grandparent; and to Sarge Bartlett for being the thinnest on top. Special gifts were presented to Ann (Curran) Froberger, Chairman of the Reunion Committee, for all she has done; Betty (Shaw) Cody for acting as afternoon hostess; and to Jean (Hersey) McCarl, who is being sent a toy airplane so that she will be sure to have transportation for the next reunion.

During a brief business meeting it was voted to hold the next reunion in five years to celebrate our 25th anniversary; a sum of money for a name plate to be attached to the bronze plaque which was the Class Gift to the school in 1946; and the Class President to appoint a committee to investigate the feasibility of establishing a scholarship fund in the name of the Class of '46; such committee to report back at the 25th reunion.

Special "thanks" went to Herbert Bearce, Mrs. Charles Zimmerman and Alfred Montanari who played a big part in making the day complete. The evening closed with the singing of the Class Song lead by Louis Cerilli, one of the original writers.

The group then adjourned to an after-reunion party hosted by Betty (Welch) Collins at her mother's house where we were joined by

DID YOU KNOW? Carole & Vick have the most children (10) including a set of twins, Karen and Carolyn? . . . Pat Rouleau also has twins, Mark & Susan? . . . that Stuart MacNeill is married to a Japanese doll and they have a new son? . . . Alice (Patterson) Hallin is recovering from an automobile accident and has just moved to Washington, D. C.? . . . that Thelma is recovering from major surgery and is vacationing on the Cape? . . . Vick planted the Class Tree? . . . Class Day gifts were presented by Joan Powers and Louie Cerilli? . . . Jack Litchfield wrote the Class History? . . . Ann Curran wrote the Class Will . . . Dick Flaherty wrote the Class Prophecy? . . . That none of them kept a copy? . . . that Baccalaureate Services were held June 9 at the First Parish Trinitarian Church and the sermon was "Let Every Man Take Heed."? . . . that the Senior reception was held June 14 and Emily Foote walked in wearing a wedding ring? . . . that we can't remember who got scholarships but Jack Litchfield must have walked off with a few? . . . that Donald Hattin is a Professor of Geology at the University of Indiana? . . . that among other things, Dan Yuhr was once a ranger at Yellowstone National Park? . . . that most of you have missed most the ocean, classmates, lobster and New England in general? . . . Several would rather have a beach party rather than a Banquet? . . . That at last count the class members had produced 151 children, 1 grand child and that its running 2 to 1 with girls ahead of boys? . . . that the average family consists of 3 children, 2 girls and 1 boy? . . . that Donald McPherson is a past-member of Scituate's Planning Board? . . . Ralph Roberts is presently Scituate's representative on the South Shore Mosquito Control Project and is Election Warden at each Town, State and Federal Election? . . . that Dr. Miles is still the School Physician? . . . Annie Barry is still at the Jr. High School Cafeteria? . . . Eddie Stewart is Principal of Senior High and John Samuelson, Carol Vollmer, Mildred Young, and Madeline Vickery are still teaching in Scituate schools?

MEMORIES OF BEING A TEEN-AGER '46 VERSION

by Betty (Welch) Collins

One of the biggest topics of conversation today is the teen-ager. I don't know how many of you have any, but believe me, if you do, you know that at one moment they are a delight and the next a royal pain-in-the-sit-down. I expect our parents shared this same opinion back in '46.

One very snowy evening last February, I had to drive my son and his friends to the Tuesday night basketball game (my husband was away, as usual). This was a 20-mile round-trip to the regional high school--and we used to complain over a couple of miles to an away game! Anyhow, I was the driver of the car, as Rusty Warren says, and believe me, that's all I was. The five boys were completely oblivious to me. Their conversations were the game, girls, teachers, girls, etc. They never would have believed that I could ever have been a teen-ager.

My mind went back, not only to our basketball games, but to our four years at Scituate High.

I think basketball games were one of the greatest pleasures we all shared. We never spawned any Celtic players, but we thought Pete, Holc, Vick, Cobby, Ralphie, Alden, and Sarge were tremendous. After the game, a typical entry in my diary, Jan. 18, '46, reads, "Tin, Peggy, Ralphie, Pete and Holc came back to the house. We ate a chocolate cake, a lemon meringue pie and four quarts of milk!" And if we weren't eating at someone's house, we were bound to be at Sargents, The Mayflower Diner, or at Casciani's Pizza Place in E. Weymouth. I hear tell that Felix Dixon used to give some great half-time speeches. And although basketball is not supposed to be as rough as football, Pete managed to break his arm on the Duxbury wall.

I think our class spawned as many budding actors and actresses as anything else, not that I've heard of any on Broadway, but one of our under-classmen, Charlie Goddard, is carrying that fame for good ol' S.H.S.

Ann Graham, as a freshman, was our only representative in the all school play "Salad Days." Who will ever forget Louie and Annelaine singing "Make Believe"? Or Sarge in "Anne of Green Gables" saying "Can't say's I do and I can't say as I don't"? Ree Res (Ellen Callahan to strangers in our midst) brought down the house as the maid in our Senior Class Play "Strictly Formal". And poor Heff coming down with a terrible sunburn the night of the play. Pete dumped a glass of water on her to cool her off--he says he did it to get even with her 'cause she had ~~half~~ the lines in the play and knew them all the first day of practice! After the play, The Mayflower Diner saw Joan, Heff, Ann Graham, Peggy, Holc, Louie, Don McPherson and myself. Bet you don't remember!

Our sons and daughters don't think we know now, or ever had any idea of what love is all about. I sure can remember some couples who thought they did. Remember as far back as 7th Grade--the "great" romance of Cobby & Thelma? Someone caught them kissing at Barbara Tindall's party! Were we ever wild!! How about Danny, Yuhr & Annelaine, Joanie & Louie, Holc & Dotty & Jean Hersey? Can't recall who came first!) Carole & Bob Glynn--just when did Vick get into the act? Pete & Pat Rouleau, Ruth & Ralph, Tin and George Bresnahan; and then there was Dick Flaherty pining for Joanie--after our Class Trip, where Mac taught him how to kiss! He's still waiting to show Joanie what he learned.

As the teen-agers today do, we also had our clothes fads. We wore broomstick skirts, huraches, cardigan sweaters buttoned down the back and pennies in our loafers. Do you remember the collection of neck-ties Holc had in his locker? His father made him wear one to school every day--on arrival he'd take it off and forget to take it home.

Some of our hair styles were something also. Remember the day Tin arrived with the first feather-cut? And Sally Whitcombe being bold enough to dye her hair? She was 20 years ahead of us, that's all. Of course, the envy of all the girls was Jean Hersey's and Lois Matthews' long, blonde hair and Bob Mongeau's curly mop!

I'll bet the teen-agers today, as smart as they are, couldn't begin to answer the questions as posed by Eddie Stewart in our Latin I Class. Remember? "How many windows in the High School?" "How many doors in the High School?" And his favorite "How big are Betty Welch's feet?"

I don't recall any course in sex-~~education~~. However, it seems one of our former teachers felt we were lacking in it, as she is now touring Mass. giving a course in SEX to the teen-agers. Can any of you guess who it is? None other than Miss Maxim!

One of the other favorite classes was Miss Vine's History Class--especially the snow-ball fights that took place.

It's funny the things you take with you--I can still say the alphabet backwards due to Miss Hawkes beating it into me in the typing class. There's probably no one who can read Shakespeare as beautifully as Bessie Dudley, and then Miss Gile trying to impress on us the importance of passing World History in our Senior Year.

One thing the teen-agers have a wealth of today is cars. We did not! I think the first was Joanie's jalopy--how else would you describe it? Then came Tin's magnificent vehicle--which in order to ride in, you had to don face masks as the fumes coming through the floor board would have knocked you out. "And to think", said proud owner, Barbara, "Somebody actually had the nerve to steal it!" T'was found in a ditch in Hanover.

Today, kids don't go to the movies like we used to--at least I hope they don't!! From the number of entries in my diary of "went to the movies," I think Mac, Joanie, Tin and I must own at least half interest in the Satuit Playhouse.

There are many memories I cannot include in any way except to say: Remember? Broad Cove? Ski Trip to North Conway and the Marblehead boys? Mrs. Towers' dancing classes and her castanets? The one and only square mirror in the girls' locker room? Eddie Stewart being able to throw a piece of chalk and catch it behind his back? The sunburns at Baccalaureat? The bus rides to and from the Class Banquet at the Kenmore? Who were you necking with, Don McPherson? Who did Bill Vining walk on the beach with Graduation Night? To whom was Dick Flaherty always saying, "There must be some Irish in you somewhere"? Vaughn and Monloeu always being late for school? Who knows what we gave the school? A plaque with names of Gold-Star veterans of World War II. Who knows what Pete said Graduation Night? He doesn't remember a word!

All in all, I hope the teen-agers of today will look back in 20 years after their graduation and have the wonderful memories we have had--but, how can they, after all, there was only one SHS Class of '46 and we have the greatest memories of all!

Many thanks to those who wrote me their memories; such as Pete, Tin, Bill Vining, Peggy Cole, Mac, and last but not least, Ruthie--she's a wealth of information.

ANNOUNCING

GRANDPARENT HONORS

To Stephen Jenney whose daughter, Amy H. (Jenney) Vaughn, presented him with a granddaughter, Terry Ann Vaughn, about a year ago.

CONGRATULATIONS, STEPHEN, ON BEING THE CLASS' FIRST GRANDPARENT!

"Dear Class of '46,

Greetings from Delaware! My vacation plans this year do not include the old home town so I will not be with you all at the reunion.

On June 25, I plan to fly to Hawaii for a visit with my sister, Evelyn and her husband.

Since I wrote my letter to you in 1961 for the 15th reunion, I have had some sad times due to the death of my wife in 1964 after an illness of two years. I am beginning to get back to normal now. There have been some bright spots, however, with the marriage of my daughter and the birth of her first baby last May 31st. Yes, I am now a grandfather! Am I the first of the Class to be so honored? It will be interesting to hear!

I am looking forward to hearing news of the rest of you after the reunion.

With all best wishes,
from Stephen Jenney"

"Hi Ann,

Thanks for sending the class reunion information.

I am afraid I won't be able to make it this time as my tour in Japan won't be over until June 67.
We will be returning to the States at that time, but of course have no idea where we will be stationed.

Yes, I said "we", as I finally took the fatal step and got hitched a while ago. Guess that leaves Dick Flaherty as the final class bachelor.

Best wishes to all the class

"Dear Ann:

Sorry to say I'll be unable to attend the reunion.

How the years have flown! It doesn't seem possible twenty years have passed so quickly.

I've left my beloved New England and find it rather difficult to adjust to these new surroundings.
However, with two small children to keep me busy, I don't have too much time to think about it.

It would have been enjoyable seeing the "Class of 46" again, but I'll have to wait until the next reunion.

Scouts, Boy Scouts, Brownies, Girl Scouts & Rainbow, etc. I'm down to "Men Clubs". I can just see Dick Flaherty laugh now. You can just bet
I try to liven them up, too!

"Dear Class of '46,

To say that I miss being at the reunion is putting it mild. I would dearly love to see all of you. I just came home today from the hospital after having major surgery. Things like that always seem to come at the wrong time.
I appreciate the letters from Ann, Ruthie, and you, Pete.

As I said before, I have lost contact with all my classmates and would love to hear from all of you. I used to see Maddy when we lived in Braintree but that was four years ago. We have planned to go to the reunion with Maddy and John.

When I'm back on my feet I hope to go to the Cape for the summer and may get a chance to come to Scituate. If, so I'll look up Ruth & Ralph or Marie &
Vinnie to catch up on the reunion.

At any rate say "hi" to everyone for me. My thoughts will be with you--even though I can't be there.

Ann, would you please give my old
"luy" Dick Flaherty a couple of hugs & kisses for me."
